

Rihanna Basically Wears Sweater Pants To Celebrate Her Grandfather's Birthday!

We want this outfit Rihanna wore in New York yesterday — full body cozy!

The top portion is basically a knit dress if you wore it without pants, and the bottoms are made from the same material as the top.

It's just all sweater monochromatic goodness!!!

→ RiRi wore the unusual but comfy Celine ensemble to celebrate her grandfather's birthday at Phillippe restaurant, and accessorized with a fitting birthday hat as well!

Her humongous hoop earrings were also a nice touch — but we'd like to note that even covered from neck to ankle, the Bajan pop princess was exceptionally seductive thanks to the clingy fabric molding perfectly to her curves.

Mmm, juicy!
