

Rihanna Treats Grandfather Bravo to Tasty NYC Outing on 86th Birthday

She certainly knows how to spoil her loved ones, and Rihanna made a huge deal over her Grandfather Bravo while out in Manhattan last night (November 3).

The "Umbrella" singer took her handsome grandpa to Philippe Chow restaurant for dinner to celebrate his 86th birthday and she looked happy as ever as she gave him a huge hug.

And of course, Ri-Ri was dressed to impress in a matching tunic sweater and trousers combo with some oversized hoop earrings and her favorite mini-purse from Louis Vuitton.

Rihanna has been a busy lady as of late, given her new perfume announcement, return to Instagram and ELLE December 2014 cover, so it's wonderful to see that she still makes time for family.

Enjoy the pictures of Rihanna celebrating her grandfather's birthday at Philippe Chow restaurant in NYC (November 3).