

Philadelphia 76ers Players Out In NYC

October 21, 2014 at 7:50 am

Love a good road trip to NYC T...

Philadelphia 76ers players Joel Embiid, Elliot Williams, Eric Maynor, Henry Sims and Nerlens Noel dined at celebrity hot spot Philippe restaurant on Manhattan's Upper East Side Sunday night, as they were in town to play a preseason game against the Nets at the Barclays Center. They feasted on chicken satay, shrimp satay, Beijing chicken, Salt & pepper Lobster, fried rice and broccoli. Fans were surprised to see Noel out on the town, as he had a respiratory infection that caused him to miss the game (his third straight preseason game). If you can't play, you still have to eat.-TO

