Our Summary Review

"Low-lit and high-class", this East Side Chinese channels "Mr. Chow" with "well-crafted" cuisine served to a "glamorous" crowd in digs that turn "cacophonous" when going full tilt (though the back room's more "chill"); the $23 prix fixe lunch dodges the "sky-high" tabs – but while you may "run into Lil' Kim", skeptics shrug the scene's "better than the food."
